01

After-hours WhatsApp.

The enquiry arrives at 9:47pm. The first reply goes out after the morning rush. By then they've asked two other places.

THE FIX

An instant reply that asks two questions and offers a slot.

02

The missed call nobody returns.

The front desk is with a customer. The phone rings out. There's no record it happened, so nobody calls back.

THE FIX

A voice receptionist that answers, books, and logs every call.

03

"Let me check and get back to you."

A warm lead asks for a price. Someone means to follow up. It lives in a chat thread, not a pipeline, so it never happens.

THE FIX

Every enquiry goes into a CRM stage with a follow-up date.

10 MINUTES EACH · THIS WEEK

Check yours this week.

- Message your own WhatsApp at 9pm. Time the reply.
- Count last week's missed calls that got a call back.
- Take 10 enquiries that didn't book. How many heard from you twice?
