MISSED-CALL RECOVERY

The four minutes after a missed call.

11:20 · 11:21 · 11:24 · 11:25

11:20

The phone rings out.

The front desk is with a patient at the counter. The caller hangs up after six rings and leaves no voicemail.

11:21

A WhatsApp goes out.

In the clinic's name: sorry we missed you, what can we help with, and two open slots from the real calendar.

11:24

They pick a slot.

The caller replies with a time and it is booked straight into the calendar. Anything only a person should answer goes to the team.

11:25

The desk gets a summary.

One line: who called, what they wanted, when they are coming in. The front desk carries on with the patient in front of them.
